BROTHERHOOD – When were you friendly toward a Scout who seemed apprehensive or isolated?

CHEERFULNESS – When were you cheerful while doing unpleasant tasks?

SERVICE – When did you volunteer to do tasks that weren't your responsibility?

EXAMPLE – Did you notice Scouts looking up to you? Is there anything you wish you had done differently to have been a better example?

What specific role or responsibility did you serve?

What was your favorite part of the trip?

What was the biggest challenge for your unit?

How did you help your unit overcome this challenge?

Overall, what could you have done to help improve the trip?

This journal is an optional tool for you to use, to record and reflect on your camping trips with your troop (or post, crew, or ship). Service to your troop is expected. Writing about it is optional. It can help you develop a life of service to others, which is the true purpose of our program..

This journal is private. However, you may find it valuable to share it with a mentor.

Don't just throw this journal away. When complete, find a way to retain it for safekeeping. This journal can then be a whispered message from the youthful you to the aged one you will become.
